

HIGH POINT UNIVERSITY

Norcross Graduate School

Anticipated Costs Breakdown

International applicants must certify they have adequate and available funds to maintain and support their stay in the United States for the purpose of earning a Master's degree at High Point University. Applicants must certify that they have at least sufficient funds available for graduate school expenses. This includes tuition, fees, and living expenses. Living expense may vary based on housing choices. On campus housing is not guaranteed, but may be available, for graduate students. Transportation expense is not included and public transportation is not available in this area. Transportation and other expenses (e.g., healthcare) may require additional funds. In addition, all students must have on hand at the beginning of each registration the funds to pay tuition and fees in full.

With your application for admission, submit this form and the official certification of your source of funding to Norcross Graduate School at gradadmit@highpoint.edu.
