OUR MISSION:
The mission of the Office of Undergraduate Research and Creative Works program at High Point University is to engage undergraduates in student-faculty collaborations that reflect individual and unique scholarly and imaginative experiences which promote the development of new competencies and foster critical thinking, providing students with privileged opportunities to add to the sum of human knowledge.

FALL RESEARCH!
The Office or Undergraduate Research & Creative Works is excited to welcome back faculty and students to another extraordinary year at High Point University! We would like to inform you of recent student accomplishments as well as future opportunities available within the realm of collaborative research and creative works. We hope to inspire you with student success and encourage you to enrich your own undergraduate experience with such projects.
HAS APPROVED THE FOLLOWING GRANTS:

THOMAS BOUDREAUX
Majoring in computational physics and projected to graduate in May of 2019, Boudreaux has been working on research about the voices of stars. He will present his work at the American Astronomical Society Conference in January.

KYLE CORCORAN
Corcoran will also be graduating in 2019 and is presenting at AAS in January. His research focuses on eclipse patterns of certain stars observed using Evyscope.

ZACK HUTCHENS
Hutchens will be at the AAS conference in January as well. His research focuses on a star discovered in 2009 which his team has collectively monitored for the past eight years.

MARIA VALVERDE
Valverde will be presenting her research under the mentorship of Dinene Crater at the Annual Biomedical Research Conference for Minority Students in November. Her research focuses on a protein involved in asymmetric cellular division.

KATIE JAMES
Senior Katie James will be presenting at the Society for Research in Adolescence conference in Minneapolis next April under the mentorship of Kirsten Li-Barber.

The Department of URCW wishes the best of luck to all of our presenters!

The following students of HPU’s Theatre and Dance Department will be sponsored by URCW to perform at the American College Dance Association Conference at Virginia Commonwealth University in March:

- Julianna Crudele
- Kaylah Davis
- Shelby Desmarais
- Monet Gilmore
- Cydney Hamilton
- Hannah Hicks
- Liv Huang
- Alanna Meek
- Deja Ross

Students will be accompanied by mentor and faculty member Lindsey Howie.

CONGRATULATIONS ON YOUR PRESENTATION COMPLETION!

URCW IS PROUD TO HAVE SPONSORED THEIR TRIP.

THE DEPARTMENT OF UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH AND CREATIVE WORKS CONGRATULATES ALL GRANT RECIPIENTS FOR THEIR DEDICATION TO RESEARCH. FIND MORE INFORMATION ON OUR GRANT PROGRAM AT:

UPCOMING CONFERENCES

Students who submit their projects to conferences are eligible for URCW grants that can cover travel and other expenses. Students of every year and major are encouraged to consider the benefits of officially presenting work on, as well as outside of, campus.

SNCURCS
STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA
UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH AND CREATIVITY SYMPOSIUM

Colleges, universities, and community colleges in North Carolina host a symposia each year to showcase NC undergraduate student research and creative work. SNCURCS provides undergraduate scholars in all fields a forum to share the results of their work through posters, presentations, performances, and works of art.

LEARN MORE AT HTTP://SNCURCS.ORG/

The event will be held at Campbell University on November 4, 2017, and 14 HPU students will be presenting their original research and creative works. Read our next newsletter to hear how they did!

RESEARCH SPOTLIGHTS
It's never too late to get involved!

HALEY FAIR, SOPHOMORE
A startup company hired HPU to find out whether their glutathione-containing supplement lowered oxidative stress more efficiently than other similar products on the market. Haley has been working on this project with Exercise Science Professor Dr. Carriker since December. Haley continued her work through the summer sponsored by URCW.

"I am so grateful for how early it is possible to get involved in research at HPU. I have learned techniques and practical skills that I can use in other research settings, and gained knowledge that will help me throughout undergraduate and medical school."

SYMaira BOLDEN, JUNIOR
Symaira is a biology major in her third year at HPU and has been asked to assist with the research project of a former student. Through the Psychology Department, Symaira is compiling data through surveys focused on how certain personality traits influence one’s relationships.

"The best part of the research is that I get to show self sufficiency because I run the data session and organize the handouts by myself. Knowing that I can be trusted to collect these data points makes me feel like a small but very important part of research."

DAN ST. GERMAIN, SENIOR
Dan is in his final year on his way to getting a degree in Game Design. With a group of students, he has helped to design an original video game with unique accessibility. Over fall break he was sponsored by URCW to present a demo in the UK. He will also present at SNCURCS in November.

"Doing the research was on its own a reward, but also getting to attend a conference and learn what other professionals in the industry are working on was such a great experience and I’m happy to have had the opportunity."
Interested in research opportunities? At www.scholarbridge.com professors and students create profiles, and students can search for research opportunities. You only need a name and verified email to get started. We suggest HPU students use their HPU email. From lemurs to NASA, find out what research and creative works flourish at High Point University.
