- Course name

Changes to course number, name, and/or descriptionCurrent Course Number & Name (prefix and number)*Proposed New Course Number & Name*Proposed new description*Brief rationale for changeCRJ 3800 International Criminal JusticeBetter reflects the course contentRationale for above changes

Changing the course name accomplishes several things. First, it better reflects the course content. We look at criminal justice from an international perspective and how the international community responds to international criminal conduct. Second, the course name is shorter and easier for students to identify. One cause for lower demand with this course is that students do not understand the course title.
