Rationale for above changes

All of these courses counted for the Literature requirement in the former general education program. When the program was revised, we successfully submitted all these courses to fulfill the new Humanities general education requirement. As a result, the learning outcomes for these courses changed to include the new Humanities learning outcomes. Because those outcomes largely overlap with the outcomes for the first-year writing requirement, there is no longer any need to require first-year writing as a prerequisite for these courses. We have already changed these courses to include the relevant writing instruction that students would formerly only get from first-year writing.

Does this change affect any other departments, schools, or programs besides your own? If so, please describe your consultation process with affected parties in the box below.

None
