Early Commitment Declaration

The early commitment declaration is located at the top of the personal background section

- Select "yes" if you are applying for the Early Commitment option
- If you are agreeing to Early Commitment, you will also acknowledge the following:
 - Early Commitment is a binding agreement with the program
 - You must remove your applications from other programs if offered conditional admission
 - If you do not enroll, it will risk future admission and the WSDM Board of Advisors and other programs will be notified of your breach of the agreement at enrollment and prior to graduation

The following describes the early commitment option in more detail:

Those who apply through early commitment, meet the interview expectations, and are offered conditional acceptance are expected to attend HPU WSDM as part of a binding agreement, similar to other early decision/commitment programs. Individuals that do not fulfill this expectation will risk admission to WSDM in future cycles and notification to our Board of Advisors as well as other programs about their withdrawal at the start of the cohort and in their last academic year. Those interested in the early commitment option must submit their application by July 31 and this deadline will not be extended under any circumstances. Please note, agreeing to the early commitment option is NOT a guarantee to receive an interview and/or admission offer. Not all early commitment candidates are rated "ready" for interview and subsequently do not move forward in the cycle. Applying as an early commitment candidate indicates your higher level of interest in the program and automatic willingness to enroll, if admitted.

Image of Early Commitment Declaration

Indicate "Yes" if you are applying for the early commitment option and reaffirm that selection
